

Using REMS to apply for access to MGRB data

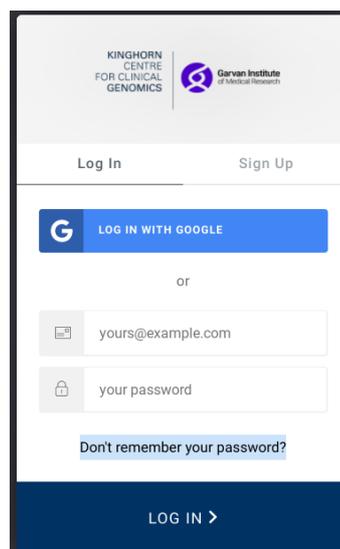

Policies and procedures for Medical Genome Reference Bank (MGRB) data access are described at <https://sgc.garvan.org.au/terms/mgrb/>. This page provides a link for downloading the application form. Please refer also to the Access Policy document and the Information Handling document.

Once completed the application form must be submitted as a PDF through the Garvan REMS system, as detailed below.

Navigate to <https://rems.public.garvan.org.au/> and click on log in.

Log in or sign up.

Under the Catalogue tab, at the bottom of the page, you will be able to add the database you would like to access (MGRB) to your cart.

The screenshot displays the MGRB Data Access Application interface. It is divided into three main sections: Resources, Terms of use, and Application. The Resources section lists the Medical Genome Reference Bank (MGRB) with a 'More info' link and a 'Change resources...' button. The Terms of use section states that each member is required to accept the terms of use to access the resources, and shows a green checkmark next to 'MGRB SECTION 3 – DATA TRANSFER AGREEMENT TERMS AND CONDITIONS'. The Application section prompts the user to attach a completed and signed MGRB Data Access Application Version 1.4, with a file named 'MGRB_DAA_CSIRO.pdf' already attached and a 'Remove' button. On the right side, there is an 'Actions' sidebar with buttons for 'Save as draft', 'Send application' (circled in red), 'Close application...', and 'Copy as a new application'. A blue notification box at the top right reads 'Please attach your completed and signed MGRB Data Access Application Version 1.4: Success'.

You and other members of the application should receive email notification that the application has been received.

Your application will be brought to the attention of the MGRB Data Access Committee.
